Dear Carolyn Broady:

Thank you for your letter of August 30, 2024, addressed to the Minister of Education and Child Care regarding the British Columbia School Trustees Association resolution calling for the development of evidence-based curriculum on gender-based violence including resources and professional development. As Associate Deputy Minister, I am pleased to have the opportunity to respond and apologize for the delay in response.

Now that the election results are final, the incoming government has appointed its Cabinet on November 18, 2024. We will ensure the matters you have raised are shared with the incoming Minister of Education and Child Care for their consideration.

Thank you again for writing and for your advocacy on this important topic.

Sincerely,

Jennifer McCrea
Associate Deputy Minister
